Blue Engine
Blue Engine partners with public high schools serving low-income communities to prepare dramatically greater numbers of students for postsecondary success. At its core, Blue Engine recruits, trains, and supports Blue Engine Teaching Assistants (BETAs)—talented recent college graduates who provide individualized instruction and reduce student-to-instructor ratios to help students build the academic skills and mindsets required to succeed in college-level coursework. BETAs work in school-based teams high school math and English classes, collaborating with school staff to help entire grade levels make dramatic gains in academic achievement. An intensive four-week training program in August prepares BETAs to review content, learn how to set ambitious goals, invest students in their own success, and conduct measurably effective small group instruction that is both flexible and responsive to student learning. During the school year, BETAs work with small groups of students and collaborate with teachers in the classroom and after school to customize instruction, increase academic rigor, and build empowering relationships with students at every academic level.

Broad Institute
The Broad Institute brings together a diverse group of individuals from across its partner institutions—undergraduate and graduate students, postdoctoral fellows, professional scientists, administrative professionals, and academic faculty. The culture and environment at the Broad is designed to encourage creativity and to engage all participants, regardless of role or seniority, in the mission of the Institute. Within this setting, researchers are empowered—both intellectually and technically—to confront even the most difficult biomedical challenges. The Institute’s organization is unique among biomedical research institutions. It encompasses three types of organizational units: core member laboratories, programs and platforms. Scientists within these units work closely together—and with other collaborators around the world—to tackle critical problems in human biology and disease.
Camphill Association of North America
Camphill is dedicated to creating intentional communities where the values of service, sharing, spiritual nourishment, and recognition of each individual’s gifts and contributions offer a model of renewal for the wider society. Originally founded in 1939 in Scotland there are now 12 Camphill communities here in North America (and over 100 worldwide) and we are actively seeking individuals who would like to participate in our AmeriCorps program, living with and supporting individuals with developmental disabilities in one of our thriving therapeutic communities.

King’s Academy
King’s Academy is a non-profit, co-education boarding school in Jordan. In a setting that is rich in history and tradition, King’s Academy is committed to providing a comprehensive college-preparatory education through a challenging curriculum in the arts and sciences; an integrated co-curricular program of athletics, activities and community service; and a nurturing residential environment. Our students will learn to be independent, creative and responsible thinkers within an ethical community that encourages young men and women of diverse backgrounds and beliefs to excel, to cherish one another and to prepare for leadership. King’s Academy is in close philosophical affiliation with “The Eight Schools” in the United States, including Andover, Choate, Deerfield, Exeter, Hotchkiss, Lawrenceville, Northfield Mount Hermon and St. Paul’s.

Koru, Inc.
Koru, Inc. is a start-up company based in Seattle with programs also in San Francisco and Boston, to help college students and recent graduates prepare for management positions in both the profit and non-profit sectors. It partners with more than 70 employers in two distinct programs. One is a management boot camp that preps students for a variety of management positions with its partner employers. The other is the Job Marketplace, which is an online-curated job database where students and recent grads search and apply for jobs at Koru’s group of partner employers.

Match Education
Match Education is a non-profit organization working to close the achievement gap through various innovations, including full-time professional tutoring and teacher training. We are widely recognized for success in preparing low-income students for success in four-year colleges. U.S. Secretary of Education Arne Duncan has described our high-impact tutoring model as a “transforming opportunity” for students. Match Corps alumni go on to some of the best law, med and grad schools in the country, to teach, or to other careers in or outside of education. Our training program, Match Teacher Residency, is widely known for creating unusually effective rookie teachers.

Northfield Mount Hermon School Summer Session
Northfield Mount Hermon School is an independent, coeducational boarding school in western Massachusetts. NMH Summer Session provides quality educational programs that attract students from all over the United States and the world. We offer a variety of credit and enrichment courses that enable young people to explore ideas and talents they might not have time for during the school year. NMH Summer Session averages 250 students in grades 7-12 from more than 24 US states and 37 countries. One particular characteristic of our Summer Session student population is its diversity, and we are especially interested in hiring an equally diverse group of teaching interns.
Peace Corps
The Peace Corps has been a leader in international development and citizen diplomacy for more than 50 years across more than 140 countries. In an increasingly interdependent world, we tackle challenges that know no borders—such as climate change, pandemic disease, food security, and gender equality and empowerment. Although times have changed since the Peace Corps’ founding in 1961, the agency’s mission—to promote world peace and friendship—has not. Today, the Peace Corps is more vital than ever, working in collaboration with partner organizations and using cutting-edge technologies and well-tested best practices to enhance its impact around the globe.

Pine Cobble School
Pine Cobble School is a co-educational day school for children in preschool through ninth grade. The school’s mission statement is to cultivate in each student a lifelong passion for learning, strong sense of self worth, and respect for others throughout the community.

SAGA Innovations
SAGA Innovations is dedicated to transforming American public education. SAGA drives the expansion of the nationally recognized innovation of high-dosage, intensive daily tutoring, where tutoring is a part of the regular school day for students as a scheduled class period. We partner with district public schools to provide students the opportunity to work with a qualified, engaging tutor who tailors instruction to the needs of two students at a time. Our mission is to improve student achievement, student and family connection to school, and to bring talent into under-resourced districts by personalizing education. We drive student achievement through high dosage individualized instruction. Students work with a tutor every day for the entire school year at no cost to the student or their families. Our objective isn’t just to change the lives of students, but to transform American public education. We are actively seeking math tutors to serve students in Chicago Public Schools and in New York City Public Schools. Tutors will start in August for training and serve until the last day of school in June 2017.

Teach For America
Teach For America works with communities to expand educational opportunity for children facing the challenges of poverty. Founded in 1990, TFA recruits and develops a diverse corps of outstanding college graduates and professionals to make an initial two-year commitment to teach in high-need schools and become lifelong leaders in the movement to end educational inequity. Today, 10,600 corps members are teaching in 50 urban and rural regions across the country while more than 37,000 alumni work across sectors to ensure that all children have access to an excellent education. TFA is a proud member of the AmeriCorps national service network.

Thyroid, Head and Neck Cancer (THANC) Foundation
The THANC Foundation is a non-profit whose three-pronged mission funds research, provides education, and supports patients who suffer from cancers of the head & neck and thyroid. THANC is one of the country’s largest private sponsors of research into these cancer types. Under the direction of Dr. Mark Urken, Chief of Head & Neck Surgical Oncology, THANC assists research that evaluates the impact of thyroid, head and neck cancer on patient function, disease progression, and long term survival. In addition to research, THANC sponsors patient education, community awareness, and family support programs. The THANC Foundation is based in New York City’s Union Square at the Institute for Head & Neck and Thyroid Cancer in Mount Sinai Beth Israel Hospital.
Uncommon Schools
Uncommon Schools (Uncommon) is a non-profit organization that starts and manages outstanding urban charter public schools that close the achievement gap and prepare low-income students to graduate from college. Uncommon builds uncommonly great schools by developing and managing regional networks that are philosophically aligned and highly accountable and by designing and implementing “best-in-class” teacher training. The organization has achieved outstanding academic results based on internal assessments, statewide exams, and graduation milestones. Its schools consistently outperform their district schools and are among the highest-performing urban schools in their cities and states.

Venture for America

Venture for America is a fellowship program for recent grads who want to learn how to build a business while making an impact. VFA Fellows get training and join a startup in an emerging US city, where they live and work for two years at one of our hundreds of partner companies. They learn the hands-on skills they need, while getting the mentorship, network, and ongoing support to prepare themselves to become successful entrepreneurs. Our goal is to spark job growth in cities that need it by sending our top talent to help grow the businesses that will make it happen.
